'Missouri Legend' To Be Presented November 11

Drama Portrays Legendary Life Of Jesse James

With the presentation of MISSOURI LEGEND as the fall production, the Western Players begin a series of plays representing the different phases of American drama. Here represented is the legendary biography of a real character in American folklore, whose exploits have furnished the basis for ballads, stories, novels and songs.

In the war between the states, Missouri was divided in its loyalties between the forces of the north and south. Fighting in Missouri consisted largely of more or less disorganized raids by guerrilla bands. In the backwash of this war that resulted in the defeat of the southern forces, many of these bands carried on their activity in forms of gangs of outlaws and continued to recruit younger members from disillusioned veterans who found difficulty in adapting themselves to life in the lawless era. It was in this way that Frank and Jesse James came to be members of Quantrill's raiders.

With a personal grudge against the forces of law and order that they encountered in the taking of their homestead through the right of intimate domain by the westward expansion of the trans-Continental railroad lines, the brothers organized their own band that continued to prey on the railroads which represented to them the unfair accumulation of wealth.

Long after Charles W. Quantrill had passed the frontier scene, the incidents in MISSOURI LEGEND are drawn from significant events in the life of Jesse James, presenting the many sides of his character and personality, and leading to the dramatic end of his life.

The characters surrounding Jesse in the story represents typical figures in the pioneer scene, in

Mitchell Opus Wins Honors

Lyndol Mitchell

Lyndol Mitchell, band director of Greenville schools, Greenville, Alabama and a graduate on a music scholarship from Western Kentucky State College, knew what he wanted to do in his "Shivaree-A Folk Overture," and he does it forthwith. In its first section Mitchell used fragments of the folk-tunes "Paw-Paw Patch" and "Skip to My Lou." The slow section represents the procession of the newly weds to their home, the finale, the shivaree, or serenade to the couple. Lively is the music, thoroughly enjoyable. The foregoing statements were written by Norman Narin in the Rochester DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE of Mr. Mitchell's composition which was played by the Eastman-Rochester orchestra during the fall symposium of American music at the Eastman School of Music on Wednesday and Thursday, October

Raine To Speak On Alaskan Life

Mr. Edgar C. Raine, one of the world's outstanding authorities on Alaska, will speak on "The Land of the Midnight Sun," in chapel, at 10 a.m., November 9.

Mr. Raine is famous for his "Travel Talks" through out the country. He probably knows more of Alaska, by actual contact with all parts of that country than any other man in the world; having resided in and traveled extensively through the territory during the past thirty-three years, during ten of which, as the representative of the United States Treasury Department he visited every town and village of Alaska and many villages in Siberia, once a year.

The true story of Alaska down to date will be told by one who helped to make it "up-to-date," by taking an outfit over the famous Chilcote Pass in 1897, during the stampede to the Klondike.

Mr. Raine takes his audiences through every town in Alaska and several villages in Siberia, presenting through the use of pictures the Northland in all its beauty and scenic grandeur. He will speak of the Eskimo igloos, and Siberian makinka houses; Totems with their legends; the hardy Eskimos in their omiaks and kyaks; quaint Alutians in their native dress; the "Midnight Sun"; the "Northern Lights"; and the customs and history of an interesting country.

That Mr. Raine is competent to speak of Alaska and Alaskans is a well-known fact. He is probably better known by the people of Alaska than any other man in that territory as he has visited every town and village in Alaska once each year for the past ten years. He is acquainted with nearly every white man in the territory and with hundreds of the

English Poetess To Speak Before Chapel Assembly

Sidney H. Wood, is visiting the United States with her husband, for the purpose of lecturing, and will appear in chapel on Wednesday, November 3. Her engagements are being arranged by the Institute of International Education.

Mrs. Wood will render "A Reading From Living English Poets," which will include some of her own works.

Mrs. Wood is a BA (Classics Honors) of Westerfield college, London university. In the first World War she worked with the YMCA Education Department in France, and in the second World War was an ambulance driver in London. In 1918 she became a traveling secretary for the Student Christian Movement in London, North England and Ireland. She married S. H. Wood, CBMC, of the Ministry of Education, in 1922 and has two sons.

Mrs. Wood is a personal friend of the poet, Walter de la Mare, and has written and lectured on his work. She studied in college with a daughter of Thomas Masaryk and was their guest in London and Czechoslovakia. She studied art in the years preceding the last war. Her first exhibition, which included oils, water colors, and wood engravings, held in 1945 in Salisbury, was regarded as having exceptional merit.

Mrs. Wood has been a prime mover and worker in German Education Reconstruction, a society for assisting educationists among the refugees to re-educate Germany in a democratic way of life. She has visited Germany twice since the war.

Her publications are: PRAYER OF AN ARTIST, 1931; FOUR GATES, 1933; A CHRISTMAS CANDLE, 1936; PILGRIM'S ELIXIR, 1938; DARK VALLEY, 1944. (These poems, handprinted, with wood engravings, were published by the

Congress Debating Club Adopts New Constitution

At the first regular meeting of the Congress debating club held Monday, October 18, in Snell hall auditorium, a new constitution was submitted and adopted by the club.

For some time the members of this club had expressed the opinion that their old constitution did not serve them adequately. Before adjournment of the club at the end of the spring quarter of this year, the decision was made to write a new fundamental law for the club. Proposals for the strengthening of the club's constitution were agreed upon. The president of the club, Ralph Allen, with the aid of some of his colleagues and the club's sponsor Mr. Norris Barbe, of the physics department, took the proposed changes and incorporated them into the constitution adopted at the first meeting of this school year.

The new constitution follows closely the organization and structure of the previous one, however, the constitution under which the club is now functioning, is more explicit and less ambiguous in the meaning of the various provisions. "I think that it is a constitution more capable of standing up under critical and difficult circumstances," said President Allen.

One major change which the new constitution contains is the provisions governing membership. It has been a tradition of the club since its origin, that once a person becomes a member of the club, his membership is good for life. The new constitution contains this tradition and further eliminates the confusion existing heretofore between active and inactive members. Active members are those members who have no more than two consecutive absences, and who have paid all current dues to the club. In-

Cuban Born Student Finds Life Different At Western

Ey Jaunita McClellan

Western has several foreign students on her campus this year. One of these is Tery Hernandez, from Sancti-Spiritus, Cuba. Two years ago her brother came to Bowling Green to attend the Business university. He was well impressed with Western and last July when Tery graduated from Apostolado high school, she talked to his father about her coming to Western. It was decided that she would attend Western for four years as a pre-dental student and then go on to school in Philadelphia Pennsylvania. She came to Bowling Green for the first time two years ago when her brother came here to school. She likes it very much but is homesick.

Tery, who is 17 years old, has a lovely complexion, brown eyes and dark brown hair. She likes the United States very much, especially the American boys. In Cuba, girls are chaperoned on their dates. When asked what she liked best about American boys, she said, "Oh, the blond hair and the blue eyes."

She had had English in high school but finds it quite different when it actually comes to speaking it. She has learned to speak English quite well for such a short period of experience with the language. She lives in Potter hall and says that she likes it because the girls are all so nice to her.

Her favorite movies are romances and musicals. In books she prefers love stories. Classic music appeals to her most of all. She also plays the piano.

Tery says that the food is very different from what she is used to and she likes the meats the most of all American foods.

She has never seen any snow and is very anxious to see some. If she stays in Bowling Green for four years, she will undoubtedly have that wish gratified.

KEEP THE CAMPUS CLEAN

Few attributes detract more from an individual or a community than untidiness.

A concrete example of the above axiom might well be the steps in front of Cherry hall. This modern classroom building was constructed by a master architect and through painstaking and expert landscaping has been made in integral part of one of the most attractive campuses in America.

Cherry hall is a building which would inspire pride on any campus; it is truly a thing of beauty. Needless to say, the Western student body takes justifiable delight in Cherry hall and the other excellent buildings which adorn the campus. Yet each day the very persons who are most appreciative of Western carelessly mar the pleasing picture which the campus otherwise presents.

Each hour during the day at the break between classes the steps are strewn with cigarette butts, match sticks, candy wrappers, paper, and other debris. The janitors and grounds people make a determined effort to keep the area clean. However, one of the cardinal principles of life seems to be that destruction is infinitely more easily and quickly wrought than is constructive activity. Every hour on the hour, whatever success the crews have achieved in cleaning up is obscured by a new deluge of waste.

The large urns on the front steps afford a convenient receptacle for cigarette butts and matches, and their utilization would appear to require only a minimum of effort. A container is also provided for waste paper.

Once the campus is clean, neat, and well-kept the tendency to carelessly drop cigarette butts and matches will cease to present a problem. Be a leader in the move to preserve and enhance the beauty that is Western by keeping the campus clean and tidy.

Alumni Flashes

By

RAYMOND C. HORNBACK

Route 3, Louisville, Ky.

REPEATERS: 'Tis good to hear from the same old grads from year to year. For instance: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Skinner of Camden, Arkansas, send in their alumni dues and also ask that one of the subscriptions be sent to their daughter, Margaret, who is connected with the chemical department of DuPont Experimental station of Wilmington, Delaware. Mr. Skinner is connected with the Grapette company of Camden, Arkansas. . . W. D. Croft writes Uncle Billy that he is going to write a long letter for the Alumni column. . . C. P. Morris, class of '24, writes for the HERALD and says that after a 21-year absence from Western, it's a thrill to read the Western news. He sends his best regards to all the oldtimers and says that he hopes to attend Homecoming.

NEWCOMERS: Ila Ree Coe writes that she misses her Western friends but that she is having a grand time teaching. . . Charles Loudermilk, Jr., sends thanks for the first issue of the HERALD and says that "we" have been quite homesick for the Hill. . . Charles Parrish, field executive of Boy Scouts at the Mammoth Cave Council. . . Johnson S. Townley writes that he is well pleased with his accommodations at Indiana university and that he hopes to receive his MA degree in June, at which time he hopes to continue work towards a Doctors degree in the field of recreation. Johnson says that Mr. and Mrs. Verne Stephens are at U. I. . . that Stanley White lives in the same dorm and hopes to get MA in history. . . that Hugh M. Ayer and wife live just across the road. Hugh is an assistant in the history department and is working on his MA. All of these newcomers are 1948 graduates.

From Hardinsburg in Breckinridge county comes news that E. D. Brown, Mrs. Brown, and their two boys, seven and thirteen years old, are very active in social, religious, educational, and civic affairs. Mr. Brown for two years was principal of the high school in Hardinsburg and is finishing his first year as superintendent of the Breckinridge county schools. He has been active in organizing a very profitable Chamber of Commerce and leading in many other worth while projects. I am told. . . Mrs. Brown is beginning her fourth year as teacher in the Breckinridge county high school. She is director of the church choir and is active a plenty in keeping the three male members of the Brown family happy around the home.

Third District Library Section Convenes Here

By George Wright

The Librarian's Division of the Third District Education Association held its annual meeting on the third floor of the library, October 15. Luncheon was served to the thirty members present.

A short business session was held with Miss Elizabeth Stagner, librarian, Bowling Green high school, presiding. Miss Catherine Shutt served as secretary.

For the 1949 meeting, Mrs. Thurmond Dixon, librarian of Glasgow high school, was elected president, and Miss Jeannette Wallis, librarian, Bowling Green junior high school, secretary-treasurer. Miss Margie Helm, librarian, Western, led a roundtable discussion during which effective types of publicity were presented by the school librarians. A general discussion followed.

A library conference, sponsored jointly by the Southeastern Library Association and the Kentucky Library Association, was held in Louisville, October 20-23.

Western librarians attending were Miss Margie Helm, Mrs. Louise A. Hulcheson, Nettie Harrison, and Sara Tyler. Mrs. Sarah Garriss, library science department, also attended.

The theme of the meeting centered around planning for library development in Kentucky and in the South.

A recent survey made by the state library associations of the South and by the TVA furnished reliable data for planning.

Miss Sara Tyler is chairman of the Kentucky Committee for Library Work As A Career. Miss Margie Helm is chairman of the State Board For The Certification Of Librarians.

Many of the librarians in attendance at the conference were graduates of Western. A breakfast was held on Saturday morning for a group of them.

Western graduates, and former students included Miss Martha Orndorff, post librarian, Fort Knox; Evelyn Willey, Dupont Manual high school library; Mrs. Jessie Hughes, librarian, Ashland junior high school; Mary Elizabeth Wallace, Louisville college of Pharmacy library; Louise Huffaker, Monticello high school library; Mrs. Kate Turner Barton, Mississippi State College for Women library; Sadie Stinson, Fern Creek high school library; Mary C. Morgan, Okolona high school library; Evelyn Alexander, Marrowbone high school library; Jasper Schlinker, Fort Knox high school library; Mary Fox Clardy, Hopkinsville junior high school library; and Dorothy Babb, State Library Extension Division.

Antique Desk And Eagle Listed In Aquisitions

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin P. Ray, now of Lakeland, Florida, have placed in the museum a handsome cherry secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Ray are both descendants of old Warren county families.

The secretary is one of the most characteristic types of the furniture of the late 18th and early 19th centuries. This piece has reeded pilasters, and the doors of the bookcase above are fitted with glass panes, with fourteen panes in each door. Everyone interested in old furniture will enjoy seeing this fine antique.

Mr. Hugh A. Simmons, Capdevila 207, Camaguey, Cuba, has presented the museum a young bald eagle. Mr. Simmons is a descendant of the Potter family of Warren county and was a student in the old Southern Normal school, class of 1900.

The specimen is the fourth bald eagle to be placed in the museum. Mr. Simmons secured the bird for the museum as a result of his visit to Bowling Green and tour of the Kentucky building in 1947.

Miss Lou Tate, of Louisville, nationally famous as a weaving authority, spent another day in the museum, Friday, October 8. The purpose of her visit was to make drafts of the coverlets in the museum collection. These drafts will be published for the use of weaving students throughout the country, and especially for members of the Kentucky Weavers Guild. Miss Tate is a former resident of Bowling Green and was a pupil in the Training school.

Mrs. Nora Young Ferguson, of Bowling Green and Golconda, Illinois, has added to the many items already given to the museum by herself and the other members of the Young family. The new collection consists chiefly of clothing and textiles. Included also are a pinking iron, old silver napkin rings, spectacles and cases, and antique children's toys.

Of particular interest in the Young collection is a dress featuring a redingote, a long plain outside coat which had not been represented in the museum previously.

The museum has received from Mr. Larry Guy something which has been discussed in the museum many times but not seen previously, a piece of old "cut money." Our pioneer forefathers cut the dollar into eight pieces as a means of making change; from this custom grew the expressions still used, "two bits" for a quarter and "four bits" for a half-dollar.

The piece given by Mr. Guy is a one bit piece cut from an old Spanish dollar of about 1809. A whole dollar of exactly the same type is on display in the money collection.

Mr. Guy found this piece of money on a road near Scottsville when he was a mere child, but until he showed the coin to Mr. Gayle Carver, curator of the museum, a short while ago, no one was able to explain to him what the specimen was.

Knitzer Returns For Performance

Appearing here for the third time, Joseph Knitzer, violinist, was warmly received by an audience of Western students and faculty members and Bowling Green citizens when he appeared in Van Meter auditorium this morning at 10:00.

Mr. Knitzer, head of the violin department of Cleveland Institute of Music, is considered one of the best of the younger contemporary violinists. He was first brought to Western several years ago as a Community Concert attraction, and his return today as a presentation of the college is marked by the fact that he has been here two years in succession.

A former student of the great teacher Leopold Auer, who taught among others, Heifitz, Elman, and Seidl, Mr. Knitzer played for music students in the choral room of the Music building yesterday afternoon.

His program as presented this morning was as follows:

"Chaconne," Vivaldi; "Sonatina," Paganini; "March of the Watch," Korngold; "Improvisation," Kabalewsky; "Songs from the Homeland," Smetana; "Nocturne," Weldon Hart; and "Tzigane," Ravel.

Mary Strickler, wife of the violinist, was accompanist for the program.

Distinguished Students Seek Army Commissions

The Board of Officers: Colonel Gilbert Linkeweller, Lieutenant Colonel Charles Dedi, and Major Sikes met October 21, to interview three distinguished military science students: Cadet Kenneth H. Holloway, and infantry reserve Second Lieutenants Strather Hawkins, and Louis Shelton, with view to permanent commission in the Regular Army. The result will not be known till the first of the year.

The Fort Knox rifle team has accepted the Western team's challenge and a tentative date, January 15, 1949 has been set.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

By Gordon Wilson, Ph. D.
Western State College

A short time ago I asked a friend of mine what he thought about the prospect of our having an outdoor program on a certain evening. He replied that everything was favorable; that there was a "dry moon." Since I had been raised with the moon, as it were, it was not necessary for me to ask him to explain. And the funny thing about it all was that the program went off as scheduled, out of doors, and no rain or threatening clouds disturbed us. You see, a dry moon is a dry moon, in spite of what the so-called learned say.

It has been a matter of great surprise to me to find many people who are ignorant of books but who know "signs and season and days and years." My mother's father, a pioneer in the Jackson Purchase, who probably could not read and write or could barely spell out verses in his Bible, was said to be able to recognize all the planets that can be seen with the naked eye and was a walking encyclopedia of moon lore. How did he learn all this, with no formal education? Some would say that plain ignorance is better than false learning, but who am I to say where the line is to be drawn between real moon lore and imagined lore?

ANWAY, THE old-timers often had uncanny weather sense and acted on it, even acquiring a local reputation that was almost infallible. The few times that their weather lore failed to hit the bull's eye were no more numerous than wide-range weather prophecies of today—for a whole state like Kentucky, for instance—and intensified the local weatherman's predictions rather than caused them to be questioned. Even my old friend Mr. Knight, who stoutly maintained that rain never falls at night in July, did not lose caste when we had a washout some July night.

In addressing a Farm Bureau chapter not long ago I made a wild guess that 60 per cent of the gardens planted inside Bowling Grade in any given year were planted according to the moon. I have no positive way of knowing the truth of this guess, but in talking with all sorts of people I have found a widespread trust in moon lore. It is not confined to any special class, for some of the believers are college graduates, whereas others are illiterate, so far as puzzling out queer marks of print is concerned. And meanwhile the gardens grow, some well, some poorly. It may be the soil, it may be the condition of the soil, it may be the were planted, it may be the fertilizer or the lack of it. Who knows? It may be the moon or whatever it is that makes seeds sprout and come forth and produce after their kind. And it would be a queer gesture of mine to laugh at all these people, who outnumber little me so overwhelmingly. And it would be especially unkind and unwise of me to cast doubt on the protecting care of an All-wise Providence. Who is manifested to so-called simple people in making plants grow tall if the seeds are planted in the light of the moon and short in the dark of the moon.

Anyway, as I have already said, the plants grow, a big enough miracle for anybody, whether he believes in the moon as a crop director or merely a pretty object in the sky for lovers to rave about.

Radio Quartet Composed Of Students At Western

Three members of "The Melody Makers," a Gospel quartet, are in school at Western. "The Melody Makers" are heard each Sunday at 8:30 a. m. over WLBJ in Bowling Green.

Glen Conner, baritone singer for the group, is a freshman and plans to major in geography; Brodus Tabor, tenor, is also a freshman and plans to major in music; and T. Y. Tabor, bass, is a junior and majoring in industrial arts. All three are graduates of Allen County high school and the alto singer is a junior at Allen County high school. The pianist, Wesley Tucker, a former student of Western, is now teaching music in Allen County high school. The group will begin their third year of broadcasting in December.

Baptists Plan To Attend Convention

The members of the Baptist Student Union who are going to attend the annual state BSU Convention, which is to be held at Georgetown college the week-end of October 29-31, will leave Western on Friday around noon. The registration of students who will go is incomplete but approximately 60 students from the Business University and Western have signed to attend.

The program will include outstanding student leaders and students who have spent the summer in some type of mission work. Testimonies by students and classes for the students to attend will also be included.

Those from Western who plan to attend are: David Field, June Baxter, Pat Walters, Betty McClellan, Joe D. ### Services Held For Western Graduate

Funeral services for Second Lieutenant Claude S. Rayburn, BS '38, were held Sunday, October 17, in the Union church in Wheatcroft.

Burial was held in the IOOF cemetery in Clay. American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars of Providence were in charge of military rites. Lieutenant Rayburn was killed in action on the island of Attu in the Aleutians on May 27, 1943.

He entered service June 18, 1941, and received training in a number of camps before being sent overseas. He received his commission after attending officer candidate school.

Graduate Writes Radio Textbook

James B. Shrewsbury, BS '46 now a student at Princeton university, has recently compiled a book he hopes will enable any boy or man, to learn the intricacies of the ether waves easily.

Mr. Shrewsbury's book, "An Approach to Radio", will provide a simple guide in elementary radio for classes or for an individual engaged in study on his own. Mr. Shrewsbury stated that he wanted to provide a short study in practical radio fundamentals to meet the basic needs of military personnel, other than electronics and radio specialists.

Thomas L. Hankins, instructor in industrial education in the College of Education at the University of Kentucky says, "Among the many radio books, this one is unique for presenting an original and interesting approach to the study of the subject." Mr. Hankins also said, "It is highly recommended as a text which conforms to sound educational principles and will secure and hold the reader's interest. The hobbyist or layman will find it a very readable and informative book."

Mr. Shrewsbury is now working on additional texts and on a series of training aids and classroom demonstration materials for use in high schools at colleges.

Physics Department Adds Laboratories

New laboratory instruction and storage space for the physics department has recently been constructed in the basement of Cherry Hall by the industrial arts department. Equipment display shelves and wall desks were constructed.

This laboratory is used to accommodate the advanced optics and electricity classes. The construction of this laboratory space makes it possible for equipment to be displayed, and it has added greatly to the facilities of the advanced laboratories.

CAMEL MILDNESS

30-Day test of hundreds of Camel smokers revealed
NO THROAT IRRITATION DUE TO SMOKING CAMELS!

{Not a single case!}

From coast to coast, the reports were the same: Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

These reports were based on a total of 2470 examinations by noted throat specialists of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

And these men and women smoked on the average of one to two packages of Camels a day!

Yes, Camels are that mild! But prove it for yourself. In your own "T-Zone"—T for Taste and T for Throat. Smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the full, rich flavor of Camel's choice, properly aged tobaccos. And let YOUR OWN THROAT tell you about that marvelously cool Camel mildness!

Prove it Yourself!

Make the Camel 30-Day Test in Your "T-Zone"

Money-Back Guarantee: Make the 30-day Camel test yourself. If, at any time during these 30 days, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you have ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund your full purchase price, plus postage. ### Veteran's Checks May Be Delayed

Veterans enrolling in college and universities this fall may not receive their first subsistence checks until the week of November 7, Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, Ohio, said last week.

The first checks will include all subsistence payments due from the date of enrollment through the end of October.

In most areas the first payments cannot be made before that date because of the heavy workload the colleges and VA face in processing extremely large enrollments.

The majority of veterans attending colleges and universities full-time under the G. I. Bill will be able to work part-time without having their subsistence allowances reduced, Veterans Administration explained today.

No reduction in subsistence will be made as long as income from production labor and subsistence allowance do not exceed the monthly "ceilings" established by Public Law 512 last spring: (1) $210 for a veteran without dependents; (2) $270 for a veteran with one dependent; or (3) $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

Band Featured In Hartford Recital

The Western concert band, under the direction of Dr. Hugh Gunderson, presented a concert last Friday afternoon on the parade ground of the Ohio County school fair at Hartford. The one-hour program consisted of popular and light classical selections and marches.

Members of the 60 piece band were dressed in dark trousers and white shirts, as the new uniforms recently purchased for the organization by the college had not arrived. The program, which was solely a concert, did not star the Western drum majorettes and drum majors in any intricate marching maneuvers.

The band that gave this recital is composed largely of the same personnel who have performed for many state occasions, including Governor Earle C. Clements' inauguration ceremonies at Frankfort last year, and the Kentucky Derby.

Dr. Gunderson's musicians left Bowling Green at 10 o'clock last Friday morning, had lunch on the Hartford fairgrounds, and returned to Western after their 2 o'clock performance.

According to Mrs. McNeil, the party was so successful that others are being planned.

Veterans Views By TOM SPARKS

The week of October 4 is National Employ of Physical Handicapped Week. The Kentucky Unemployment Service is sponsoring this week in Kentucky to seek employment for handicapped veterans in Kentucky. A demonstration of the work being done by a handicapped veteran will be displayed in one of the windows of Pushins Department store. The window will be trimmed by Hubert Hodges who is a handicapped veteran and is under Public Law 16 under the local Veteran Administration jurisdiction.

State pharmaceutical associations in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have renewed contracts with Veterans Administration to provide "hometown" prescription service for eligible veterans during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, it was announced today at the VA's tri-state branch office in Columbus, Ohio.

Under the "home-town" service plan, eligible veterans simply take their prescriptions, issued by VA-fee basis physicians as part of authorized medical treatment, to the nearest pharmacy to be filled, and VA pays the bill.

Fees charged by participating pharmacies are approximately equivalent to average fees for prescriptions charged the general public.

Veterans attending colleges and universities under the G. I. Bill must obtain supplemental certificates of eligibility from Veterans Administration if they plan to enroll in a new school this fall. VA's branch office in Columbus, Ohio, said today.

The certificates should be requested from a VA regional office at least 30 days before the date the term opens at the new school. Advance requests will help speed prompt payment of subsistence allowances after the start of the new term.

Supplemental certificates to the original certificates of eligibility issued by VA are necessary only when a veteran changes from one school or training establishment to another.

The veteran's full name, correct address, VA claim number and present training establishment should be included in any request for new certificates.

With educational institutions in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky again faced with capacity enrollments this fall, Veterans Administration said today that every assistance will be given disabled veterans in gaining admission to schools of their choice. VA Branch Office officials in Columbus, Ohio, said VA training officers will make every effort to place disabled veterans in educational courses they need to complete their vocational training.

Primary responsibility of VA's vocational rehabilitation and education service is the prompt and successful rehabilitation of the disabled veteran. VA said it did not believe any school would refuse to make special arrangements for these veterans if their cases were brought to the schools' attention.

Latest statistics show 8,014 disabled veterans enrolled in educational institutions in the three states under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, including 4,047 in Ohio, 2,928 in Michigan and 1,039 in Kentucky.

Student veterans whose dependency status changed during the summer vacation are reminded by Veterans Administration to submit proof of additional dependency as soon as possible to the appropriate VA regional office in which their records are filed.

Veterans with dependents, who are studying full or part-time in schools and colleges under the G. I. Bill, are eligible for additional subsistence payments because of the dependents.

However, legal proof, such as certified copies of public records of birth, baptism, marriage, divorce or other evidence, must be in their VA training file in order to qualify.

Single veterans studying under the G. I. Bill are eligible for monthly subsistence allowances up to $75. Veterans with one dependent may receive $106 per month and veterans with two or more dependents, $120.

Veterans should submit evidence of dependency at once, rather than wait until enrolling for the fall semester in order to insure receiving prompt payments of subsistence at the higher rates.

World War II veterans still may reinstate their National Service Life Insurance, Veterans Administration branch office officials in Columbus, Ohio, explained today.

Some veterans are under the impression they can no longer obtain this government insurance. World War II veterans who can pass a physical examination may reinstate their lapsed insurance at any time.

The deadline for reinstating NSLI without a physical examination was July 31, 1948, VA explained. Prior to the deadline, a veteran could reinstate lapsed insurance by certifying that his health was as good as it was when the policy lapsed.

HOMER NATION

The boy who studies until the library closes every night that Jean Naron works at the circulation desk is Homer Nation, a sophomore agriculture major from Owensboro.

He is interested in dairying and woodworking and thinks he may teach after graduating from Western.

He was graduated from West Louisville high school in Owensboro, was president and co-valedictorian of his senior class, and holds a State Farmer's degree in the Future Farmers of America.

Homer is five feet, eleven and a half inches tall and weighs about one hundred and sixty pounds. His hair is blondish and his eyes blue and his grin is spontaneous. His favorite food is French-fried potatoes.

Homer gives the impression of being a clean-cut, friendly person with a liking for fun, but with enough seriousness in his make-up to make his friends take notice.

FLORENCE HAGAN

A quiet, unassuming junior is Florence Hagan, who came from Greensburg. When asked, if there's anything interesting about her life she looks surprised and says "Not a thing."

She is 5'5" tall, weighs 110 pounds, her eyes are luminous and blue, and her hair brown.

She is majoring in English with minors in library science and history. Her favorite sport is football and her ideal boy is blonde.

EMMIT HAYNES

The tall, handsome brunette whom you saw handing out CLEW cards and tacking up posters during CLEW week is Emmitt Haynes, a sophomore agriculture major from Stinnettville.

Emmitt is a friendly person and knows and likes many people on the Hill. His spirits never seem to droop or sag and his smile seems sincere and genuine.

He has brown eyes that dance with mischief and gaiety. His hair is dark brown and in place. He is 6'1 1/2" tall and weighs about 170.

While in the Army where he served in the ETO he was a mess-sergeant. One of his most interesting experience of last year was the month in which he and a friend took his Army cook book with recipes scaled to fifty or one hundred servings, cut them down, and attempted to eat better meals for less money than the cafeteria offers. They insist they got better meals, but when the cost ran higher than it ought and the dishes had to be done every night, they came back to the cafeteria.

Emmitt is a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and is at present engaged in trying to get a Cumberland Presbyterian Student Union established.

One knows that with Emmitt's ability to get along with people he will be able to do almost anything he sets out to do.

Most young artists have been aided and encouraged by those older in the profession and he is no exception for such noted composers as Dr. Mary Carr Moore, Elinor Remick Warren, Carrie Jacobs Bond, and Charles Cadman have shown unusual interest in the success of this rising tenor who has programmed their songs on numerous occasions.

Pianist of the trio, Vierlyn Clough Duerr, has been winning acclaim as an outstanding pianist since the age of sixteen. First awards have been hers in many contests she has entered and Joseph Lhevinne gave her a high rating in his rostrum of artist pupils.

For her first appearance with the Duluth orchestra, Miss Wellman was accorded a most enthusiastic ovation by the audience. It was her just award for playing a masterwork of brilliance, richness and warmth," writes Margaret Morris in the Duluth NEWS-TRIBUNE, of Claire Wellman, concert violinist appearing in the quartet.

Numbers presented by Dr. De Boer were "The Birth of Morn," Lenol; "The Rose of Tralee," Irish air; "Vienna Waltz," Strauss; "Le Reve," Massenet; and "When I Think Upon the Maidens," Head. "Polka Shavanda," Weinberger; "Cat and the Mouse," Copland; and "Prelude in G Minor," Rachmaninoff were played by Miss Duerr. # Hilltoppers Meet Georgetown Tomorrow Night

Louisiana Eleven Guest Of Toppers

The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers entertain Louisiana College at the Western stadium on November 6. This game will be the last of the night contests.

The Louisiana Wildcats boast an experienced club of 18 lettermen returning from last year. This game will be the Hilltoppers' first entanglement with the Cats. The Cats are coached by Jimmy Keeth who is an alumnus of Louisiana. Coach Keeth is only twenty-eight and returned to his alma mater in '47 to assume duties as head coach. Mr. Keeth is assisted by John "Killer" Knox.

Louisiana college, called "the pride of Louisiana Baptists" is located in Pineville. The campus comprises a 54-acre tract, with almost all landscape provided by nature, and includes 14 buildings besides 20 married veterans' apartments. This was the college's forty-third session.

The Cats are a much improved team over last year. They have increased in strength in all positions. The '48 roster is made up largely men from east Texas, Louisiana, and west Mississippi. Their passing attack is headed by "Expert" Smith, a quarterback weighing 175 pounds.

The Cats are a member of the SIAA and Gulf State Conferences and are expected to give the Toppers a thrilling scrap.

Fighting "Red" Bean, Western's outstanding 230 pound tackle hails from Madisonville. Red's will to win inspires the whole squad.

Tigers Have Won Four, Lost Two

Football will again be the highlight of tomorrow night's entertainment when Western is host to a powerful Georgetown team. The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers will be after their third win to avenge the three defeats previously suffered by the Clayton men.

Georgetown under the leadership of Coach C. Q. "Tex" Smith has an impressive record for this year. The Tigers have won four games and lost only two. They have scored almost 100 points in their six games thus showing a strong offensive eleven.

In weight the Tigers have a slight edge over the Hilltoppers. Georgetown boasts an average of 197 pounds in the line while Western has 190 pounds. In the back field Western averages 171 to 179 for Georgetown.

The Tigers have four talented players in Leistner, Sinkhorn, Anderson, and Burger. Leistner was an all-state guard in 1942 and in 1943 he was a starting guard at the University of Illinois. Last year Leistner was an All-KIAC guard. Anderson and Sinkhorn compose the passing combination with Anderson tossing the ball. Burger is an impressive runner who can carry the ball with great speed. Coach Clayton said, "Burger will be one of the best ball carriers that will appear on the Western gridiron this season."

The only mutual foe so far this

Western's answer for a passing combination. Pickens to Wallheiser accounted for 5 pass completions netting 97 yards and Western's only T. D. against U. of L. Frank is aggressive both on offense and defense.

Cardinals Best Hilltoppers, 19-6

An aggressive, aerial minded University of Louisville eleven were victors of the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers in Parkway field last Saturday night. The University of Louisville Cardinals bettered the Hilltoppers in a 19-6 count. Western's lone touchdown was scored in the first period by a pass combination of Pickens-Wallheiser.

An outstanding performance was given to the spectators by Jim Pickens and Frank Wallheiser. Five completed passes and 97 yards were gained by this Western quarterback and left end. Both teams were halted in ground plays and the air became full of 41 passing attempts. Of the 599 total offense of the two teams, 311 yards resulted from 21 pass completions.

In the latter part of the first quarter, Pickens, on his own 22, tossed the pigskin to Wallheiser for 30 yards. After powerful runs by Taylor and Jones, the Pickens-Wallheiser combination clicked for a 19 yard pass and the touchdown.

Western entered the second quarter setting the pace in a 6-0 score. The Cardinals took to the air. A pass by Gitschier of University of Louisville to Ramsey enabled the boys of Louisville to stalemate the contest at 6-6 when the clock stopped at half-time.

Louisville came back in the second half to win with a 19-6 score. The Cardinals scored with an 80 yard drive up field. Brewer made the tally and in the fourth quarter, Trabue went over his tackle to secure another touchdown for the determined Cardinals.

Although Western was on the short end of the final count, the Hilltoppers were close on the heels of U. of L. in the statistical reports.

Western Batters Union Bulldogs

Coach Jack Clayton's Hilltoppers made their 1948 debut at home before some 4000 fans Saturday night, Oct. 16, in the Western Stadium and turned in a resounding 20-7 triumph over the Union University Bulldogs from Jackson, Tennessee. The tilt marked the seventh time the two elevens have met on the gridiron. The Hilltoppers' win gave them a four-to-three edge over the Bulldogs.

The Clayton gridders took the field with a 24 point slide-rule advantage over the visitors and as the game opened they lived up to all advance notices. Their Triffid grid methods revelatory. In the early minutes of the fray the Toppers potently pounded their way into the scoring column as a punt from the educated toe of Jim Joyner sailed out of bounds on the Western 30 yard stripe, giving the Clayton men a first down at this point. The home gridders geared themselves for their offensive duties as Pat McNeil swivel-hipped his way to the Union 37 in two running plays. Fullback Fred Clayton took over from here and on the two succeeding plays from scrimmage churned and battered his way through the enemy defenses for an additional 4 yards. With the pigskin resting on the Bulldog 33 yard line Jim Pickens received the pass from center, cocked his throwing arm and unleashed a flat pass which was taken into custody by Shirley Underwood who galloped down to the opponents 26 for another first down. Western again applied a little of their gridiron power and crashed their way to the enemy 10, after which Underwood took a pitch-out from Pickens, cut to his right, found the touchdown gate wide open and sped across the goal line into pay dirt for the initial score of the contest. Montelli's conversion was good and Western led by the score of 7-0.

The ensuing time the Toppers gained possession of the ball they launched a sustained drive which advanced the pigskin down to the Union 18 yard line, giving the Red and Gray gridders another first down and setting the stage for another Hilltopper score. On the following play the Clayton men emerged from their huddle and lined up in usual T formation attack plan with Pickens behind the center. The signals ripped out into the brisk autumn air. The snap went to Pickens, who gave the pigskin to halfback John Hancken. Hancken spotted a yawning hole off right tackle, streaked through it and after reaching the secondary defenses, cut to the sideline and crossed the last stripe standing up for the score. Montelli's try for the point again split the up-rights, and the score as the first half ended was Western 14, Union 0.

The Bowling Green grid men came into the second half plagued with a slight case of fumble-itis and after they had slashed their way to the Union 13 they muffed the ball and the Bulldogs recovered knocking the Western scoring threat into oblivion. It was not long however before the Clayton coached footballers retaliated. Joyner booted out of bounds on the Union 43 yard line and on the first play from scrimmage after the kick, Fred Clayton tucked the pigskin under his arm, cut wide to his left and scampered the entire 43 yards for the final Western touchdown. Montelli's attempt this time was wide and the Toppers now led 20-0.

The Clayton gridders again gained possession of the ball and launched a drive to the Union 26 yard line, however it fizzled into nothing as the Bulldogs pounced on a second Western fumble. Coach Clayton, assuming the handwriting was on the wall, sent in an entire new team. The visitors noticed their opportunity to explode and did so. Leo Martindale sparked the enemy explosion by cutting off tackle for 25 yards and a Bulldog first down. Laverne Walburn then advanced the ball another 28 yards to the Western 25. Martindale again contributed to the cause by dashing off tackle and fighting his way to the 10. He then skirted around end and was finally knocked to the turf on the Topper 1 yard line. Wilfred Short immediately plunged through the middle of the Hilltopper defensive bulwark and into the end zone for the lone Union tally. Knighton's placement for the point was good and the score stood Western 20 Union 7.

The grand premiere victory was of momentous importance to the Western gridders because it brought their 48 campaign won and lost average back up to the .500 mark with 2 wins against as many defeats. It also instilled within the grid performers the confidence that the fans of Western are behind them. This, in itself, could prove a great factor in the success of the Hilltopper football season in the games remaining.

Guthrie Speaks On Atom Bomb

"Remember these three horrifying dimensions—1,000 times more brilliant than sunlight, 10,000 hotter than the sun, the force of a 2000 ton TNT bomb." Wayne Guthrie, INDIANAPOLIS NEWS assistant managing editor said as he described the atomic bomb experiments which he witnessed at Bikini in 1946.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Third District Education Association in Van Meter auditorium on October 15, Mr. Guthrie said the problem which faces, baffles and confuses this world is not how to control the atomic bomb but it is how to control the impulses of men.

Mr. Guthrie began his graphic description by telling of the thousands of animals which were on the ships in Bikini Lagoon. They were to show how different types of life would react to the atomic bomb.

told of the fantastic assortment of articles that were in the ships.

Following the details of the minute preparation he described the actual explosion of the first bomb which was dropped above the water. "A terrific white light, 1,000 more brilliant than sunlight, then a red mass whirling skyward, turning orange, black gray, almost simultaneously, 14,000 feet across the top when it was eight miles high."

After an account of the terrible destruction he leaned forward and said to the audience:

"Suppose instead of using only one bomb at Bikini each time they might have used 25 or, as some say is feasible, 50 each time. Don't you see what this bomb can do someday?"

Mr. Guthrie declared that the only really effective defense against the atomic bomb is peace. Giving his audience a glimpse of what he termed "push-button warfare" he described the explosion of the second bomb underwater.

The man who set the bomb off was fifteen miles away, and in no way connected with the bomb materially. He was tuned into the wave length that was in sympathy with the bomb. The men who actually placed the bomb in the water did not see it. It was cased in metal and canvas.

"All this will give you an idea of the secrecy surrounding the atom bomb."

"Someday they'll propel the atomic bomb by means of guided missiles that travel at the rate of 5,000 miles an hour and maybe we'll wake up then, if it's not too late."

Mr. Guthrie concluded his talk, which was the five hundred and thirtieth time he had given it, by praising the privilege of being an American and how lucky the world is that there is an America.

"The atomic bomb is the nearest thing the world has ever seen to infinity. It comes very near being eternity itself."

Class To Purchase Furniture For Dances

Announcement has been made by Registrar, E. H. Canon, that the freshman class of 197-48, has invested a part of their surplus class dues in furniture to be used for seating chaperones at college dances.

This furniture consists of three pieces: a settee and two chairs—made of chromium and upholstered in red and green leather.

"In the past, chaperoning at college dances has not been satisfactory due to the difficulty of finding persons to fill this position," Mr. Canon said.

"The class thought that more comfortable seating arrangements might be an inducement to chaperones," he said, "since in former years they have occupied the bleachers."

CONGRESS DEBATING

active members are those persons who fail to meet all qualifications of active members. Inactive members have all the rights and privileges of active members except the right to vote.

Perhaps, the most significant departure the new constitution makes from the old one, is the article pertaining to absence. Hereafter no excuse can be accepted for a members non-attendance, however, members who fail to attend regular meetings may avoid transfer of their active membership status to inactive membership status by paying an additional dues of 15 cents for each absence.

The duty of the program committee is also more clearly defined. The new constitution states, "It shall be the duty of the program committee to propose programs, make arrangements for the execution thereof, and to submit such programs and arrangements to the club for its consideration and adoption." This provision places the club more on the order of a debating club than formerly was the case.

Tenure of office for the elected officers of the club also was changed. Previously, officers were elected for five weeks; now all elected officers are chosen at the beginning and middle of each semester, making the term of office approximately nine weeks.

The members of the club feel that the new constitution will serve adequately the needs of the club. Mr. Barbee the faculty sponsor believes that they now have a constitution that will work.

The present members were pleased with the submission of five candidates for membership at the first meeting. The candidates names are Alva R. Thomas, Huck Martin, Lee Troutman, James G. Mickols, and Hugh A. Nollinger. These candidates will be eligible for admission into the club after their names have laid on the club's table for one week.

"Music for the festival was submitted by outstanding composers from throughout the country, and it is great credit to Mr. Mitchell and to Western's music department that this music was played during the symposium," relates Dr. Weldon Hart, head of the Western music department, in considering Mr. Mitchell's achievements.

In agreement with Dr. Hart's statement an opinion poll of the Eastman-Rochester symphony orchestra gave Mr. Mitchell's composition first place over eighteen other compositions by composers from all over the country. After being played Wednesday morning and again Thursday morning, and the overture being selected as one of the best pieces of the symposium, it was played in a formal concert Thursday evening.

The composer, a resident of Memphis, attended Western for two years before the war. He returned to Western in 1946 where he graduated with the BS degree in Music last June. During the last two years he was here, he was a student in the composition class of Dr. Hart. "Shivaree," which depicts the atmosphere of the traditional folk marriage celebration, was written during the 1947-1948 school year. It received its first performance last spring by the Western symphony orchestra under the direction of Dr. Hart.

With Guy Fraser Harrison as director, the Rochester-Civic orchestra will feature the piece sometime within the next four weeks.
